The Saint Louis University.

In the autumn of 1828 the Jesuit Fathers, who since 1823 had been established near Florissant, St. Louis County, Missouri, laid the foundation of a college building on the lot situated at the corner of Ninth Street and Christy Avenue. This building, 40x50, three stories high with a basement, was occupied in the fall of 1829. Classes were opened November 2d of that year, and before the close of the following July one hundred and forty-nine pupils, of whom thirty were boarders, had been entered on the college record.

In 1832, December 28th, the Legislature of Missouri granted a charter to the institution by "An Act to Incorporate The St. Louis University." Until that date the institution had been known under the name of "The St. Louis College." The first regular faculty under the charter organized on April 3d, 1833. Rev. P. J. Verhaegen, S. J., was the first president. On July 31st, 1834, three graduates received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

In 1835 negotiations were begun with prominent physicians with a view to attaching a staff of medical professors to the University. The project matured slowly. In the autumn of 1842 the first course of lectures was delivered in a separate building on Washington Avenue, west of Tenth Street. The following professors composed the medical faculty for the session 1842-1843: Daniel Brainard, M. D.; Joseph W. Hall, M. D.; H. Augustus Prout, M. D.; Moses L. Linton, M. D.; Joseph J. Norwood, M. D.; Alvin Litton, M. D. The medical professors continued their connection with the University until 1855, when they obtained a separate charter, under the title of "St. Louis Medical College."

The corner-stone of St. Francis Xavier Church was laid with great solemnity in the spring of 1840. On Palm Sunday, 1843, the sacred edifice opened its doors for public services.

Many additions were in the course of time made to the original building. An account of them, together with many interesting reminiscences will be found in Rev. Walter H. Hill's "Historical Sketches of St. Louis University."

Until June, 1851, students could obtain board and lodging at the University. During those "boarding-school" years, extending over half a century, students came from far and near, so that pupils of the institution were scattered over the length and breadth of the land. At the Golden Jubilee celebration, under the presidency of Rev. Jos. E. Keller, S. J., June 24th, 1879, the devotion of the Alumni to their Alma Mater found a most hearty expression.

The locality, through the encroachment of business, had become unsuited for collegiate purposes. As early as 1867 Rev. Thos. O'Neil purchased a tract of land near the then western limit of the city. This plot of ground, having a front on Grand Avenue of 446 feet, by a depth of 360 feet, and extending from Lindell Avenue to Baker Avenue (West Pine Street), is the present site of the University.

Rev. R. J. Meyer, S. J., appointed president in 1881, took active steps towards the transfer of the institution. Mr. Thomas Walsh having been chosen architect, plans were prepared for a church and a college. The University authorities set apart the corner of Grand and Lindell Avenues for the site of a church. In 1883 excavations were begun, and on June 8th, 1884, the corner-stone was laid in the presence of an immense concourse of people. The length of the sacred edifice will be 210 feet, width in transept 120 feet. The church has not yet been completed, but services have been held in the commodious basement since November 1st, 1884.

The old site found purchasers on May 24th, 1886, and preparations were at once made for the erection of a new college. The building as planned and executed has the form of a reversed L, the base line being on the left side of the perpendicular instead of on the right side. The front on Grand Avenue measures 270 feet. The architecture is early decorated English Gothic. With the exception of the parlors near the main entrance, marked by the portico, the entire portion of the building fronting on Grand Avenue, has been devoted to college purposes. The entrance for the students is opposite to Pine Street, towards the extreme left of the building, below bay-window and spire. On the third floor is a magnificent museum, 98x58 feet and 52 feet high. It has an open polished timber roof, supported by arches. The same apartment serves as a picture gallery. In the basement a fine laboratory, and on the first floor several magnificent science rooms, have been provided. Two iron stair-cases, one at each extremity of the class-room division, reach from basement to attic.

From the main entrance the building extends west to the full depth of the premises; this division contains the private rooms of the faculty. Immediately behind the parlors on the first floor is the entrance to the chapel, which measures 80x50 feet. Above the chapel is the library, of the same dimensions as the chapel, but two stories high, and amply lighted from above and from the north side. The accommodations of this apartment are as good as those of any library in the country. Three balconies extend around the walls, one 15 feet, the other two 12 feet in depth. Any book can be reached without ladder or step. Under the chapel and easily accessible from Grand Avenue is a lecture room with a seating capacity for 500 persons.

The removal, involving the abandonment of long familiar halls, called forth many expressions of attachment and good-will. The Alumni having, to commemorate the event, hastily organized an association, gathered in the old study hall, on the evening of June 25th, 1888, and after partaking of a banquet, gave expression to their feelings in elegant discourses. The speakers were : J. S. B. Alleyne, M. D. ; Rev. John S. Verdin, S. J. ; Elisha M. Gregory, M. D. ; Hon. Shepard Barclay, Rev. M. J. McLaughlin, Theophile Papin, Esq., Rev. Walter J. Hill, S. J. ; Rev. R. J. Meyer, S. J. ; Walter J. Blakely, Esq.

The 59th Annual Commencement, June 28th, was the last academic exercise held in the time-honored halls.

The formal opening and blessing of the new building took place on July 31st, feast of St. Ignatius.

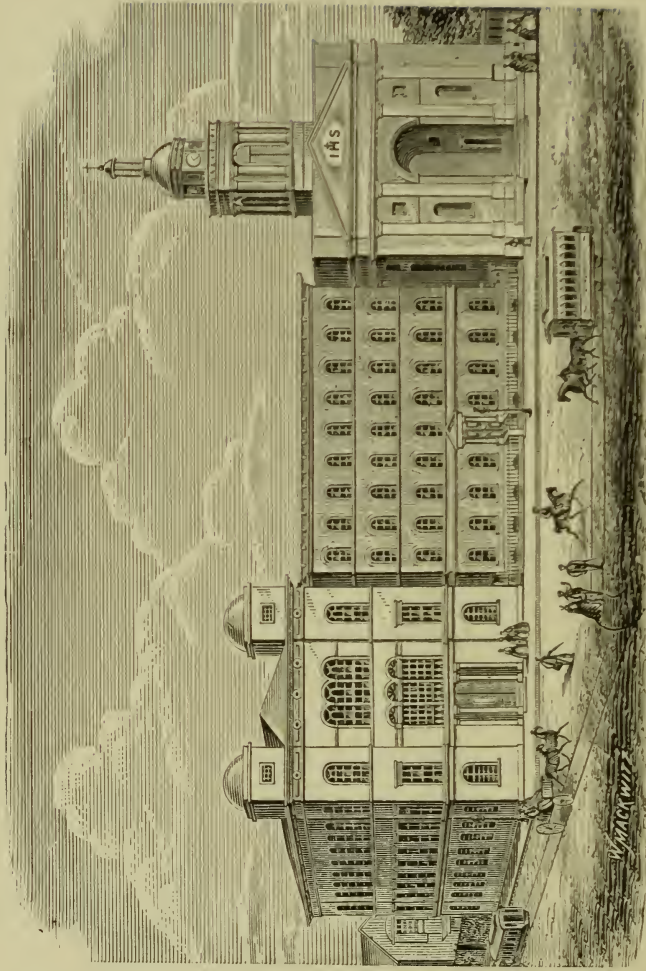

On August 6th public services were held for the last time in the old College Church.

The 60th academic year of St. Louis University opened most auspiciously in its new home, September 3d, 1888. Students flocked from all quarters of the city and from the suburbs. The attendance surpassed that of any previous year.

University Post-Graduate Course.

The object of this Course is primarily to enable college graduates to continue their philosophical, scientific, historical and literary studies. Attendance is, however, not restricted to graduates. All gentlemen who can follow the lectures with profit and interest are admitted. The great issues of the day are elucidated and discussed. While the treatment of themes is highly scientific, simplicity of method and style is industriously preserved. Professional gentlemen will find the course of the greatest utility, and business men will derive from the lectures an intimate acquaintance with the questions that agitate the world of science and of learning.

Degrees are conferred at the end of the course, but only on such gentlemen as have already received academic honors. The degrees obtainable are those of Master of Arts and Bachelor of Philosophy. For the former, one year's attendance is required ; for the latter, two.

Application for a degree can be made only after regular attendance at the lectures, and should be submitted at least two months before the close of the session. An essay, on some assigned topic, will be required from each applicant.

The course opens on the second Monday in October, and closes about the middle of April, with an intermission of three weeks at Christmas. The lectures have been delivered on Monday and Wednesday evenings, at 8 P. M.

Season Ticket for the entire course.....$10.00

Fee for Diploma..... 10.00

A select public has been admitted to some Lectures, in which certain prominent subjects, belonging to Post-Graduate studies, have been presented in a more popular form.

College Courses.

There are two Courses of Instruction, the Classical and the Commercial.

I

THE CLASSICAL COURSE.

The Classical Course is designed to impart a thorough liberal education. In the accomplishment of this purpose the ancient classics hold the first place as the most efficient instrument of mental discipline. Besides Latin, Greek and English, the Course embraces Religious Instruction, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Astronomy and Mathematics, History, Literature, the Natural Sciences—in a word, all the usual branches of a complete education. It has been found by long experience that this is the only Course that fully develops all the faculties, forms a correct taste, teaches the student how to use all his powers to the best advantage, and prepares him to excel in any pursuit, whether professional or commercial.

The course is divided into two departments, Collegiate and Academic.

COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

CLASS OF PHILOSOPHY.

The study of French or German is optional in either course. Instruction in these languages is given without extra charge.

Societies.

Like all centers of learning, the University has at all times encouraged and maintained societies looking to the various interests of the students. The following societies deserve particular mention :

The Alumni Association.—The object of this association is to preserve and strengthen the traditions of the University, and to maintain a fellow-feeling among the Alumni. Any graduate or student of the St. Louis University can apply for membership. An annual banquet will be given in the University building in the beginning of June. The yearly fee is Two Dollars, payable on the 1st of April. The election of officers takes place biennially. Application for membership can be made directly to the President of the University, who is, ex officio, Chairman of the Executive Board. The Association was formed in 1888, on the occasion of the transfer of the University from Ninth Street and Washington Avenue to Grand Avenue. Two hundred gentlemen responded to the first hasty call. A cordial invitation is extended to all former students.

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary was erected in 1835. Its object is the promotion of piety and virtue among its members, by the practice of devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary. It comprises two distinct organizations, one for the Senior and one for the Junior students.

The Philalethic Society was organized in 1832. Its objects are to prepare its members for public speaking, and to furnish their minds with facts and arguments on historical, literary and philosophical questions. Weekly debates, original essays, readings and declamations are the means employed to obtain the desired end. Only members of the higher classes are admitted.

The Students' Library was established to encourage useful reading, and to supply the sources of information for original compositions and for debates. A choice collection of over 4,000 volumes, on various subjects, is accessible to the members. This library is independent of the Sodality libraries, which are of a religious character.

The Glee Club has for its object to foster musical education, and to enliven public academic celebrations with music and song.

General Regulations.

The Academic Year consists of one session, beginning on the first Monday of September, and ending in the last week of June, when the Annual Commencement, the Conferring of Degrees and the Distribution of Premiums take place.

The session is divided into two terms—the first ending on the first of February and the second in the last week of June. A thorough examination of all the classes is made at the close of each term. There are three competitions during the course of the year; the first at the beginning of November, the second at the beginning of April, and the third toward the end of May. The first and second competitions, as also the examination at the end of the first term, are followed by distribution of Premiums. The places or degrees of merit obtained by the students in the different classes are publicly proclaimed, and honors are awarded to such as have been most distinguished for good conduct, diligence and proficiency.

On completion of the Classical Course, the degree of A. B. is conferred upon those who, on examination, are found deserving of that distinction. Subsequently, the degree of A. M. can be obtained by devoting a second year to the study of Philosophy in the Institution, or two years to a learned profession. Students of the Commercial Course receive an honorary certificate on completion of the course.

Every candidate for admission, who is not personally acquainted with some member of the Faculty, must produce proper testimonials of a good moral character. If he comes from another College, he will be required to present a certificate of good standing in the institution which he has left.

Quarterly reports are sent to the parents or guardians of the students, to inform them of the conduct and improvement of their sons or wards.

Punctual attendance is earnestly recommended. Parents are regularly informed of the non-attendance of their sons, who, in case of absence, are invariably required to bring a note of excuse to the Vice-President. In order that the lessons may be prepared with proper assiduity, parents are requested to insist on their sons studying at home for two or three hours every evening. When students are to be withdrawn from the institution, due notice should be given to the President.

The University is open every morning at half-past seven o'clock. Those who come before the time of class proceed at once to the Study Hall, and devote the interval to private study. All are required to be present five minutes before half-past eight o'clock, at which hour the Catholic students hear Mass. At nine o'clock A. M. the regular exercises of class commence, closing at half-past two o'clock P. M.

Terms.

As the Institution is not endowed, it is entirely dependent for its support on the fees paid for tuition.

Tuition per session of ten months, for all classes, including
Stationery $60.00

Students of Chemistry and Natural Philosophy, for the use of the apparatus, pay $10 per session.

School books are furnished, if parents desire it, at current prices.
